"God does not play dice" He used the sentence as a rebuttal to quantum mechanics, but deep down, it explains most of his life's work.

God does not play dice with the universe - Wiktionary that the human mind could discover was evidence of a God, not a God who superseded these laws but one who created them. Thus his use of the word God is to be interpreted as the existence of natural laws of great mathematical beauty, whatever form they might take. Which brings us to the second part of Einstein's statement, the part about not playing dice.

Einstein refused to believe that God played dice, it was quantum mechanics that he had in mind; but his philosophy captures the attitude of an entire age to classical mechanics.

Why God plays dice | plus.maths.org

God doesn't play dice with the Universe. An intriguing statement! There is nothing "chance" in this Universe, as there is in a game. Universe is a play of God, by God here is not meant any personal God. It is Force/energy. Chaitanya. It is not a purposeless Universe. Things happen according to a devise.
