"One For Sorrow's" first half proved to be promising, and while a long way from the best 'Lewis' episode it's a quite decent start to the ninth and final season. Still think that splitting the episode into half when aired was not a good idea, especially with the story being as twisty and sometimes convoluted like it was in "One For Sorrow".

One for Sorrow is a classic children's nursery rhyme about magpie birds. According to folklore, counting the number of magpies (or crows) which appear at a joyous occasion, such as a baby shower or wedding, is thought to foretell the fortune a couple. If multiple magpies appear, it's a sign of good luck!
