Secular state - Wikipedia

"Things Secular are as separate from the Church as land from the ocean" (English Secularism, 1). This principle is in strict opposition to essential Catholic doctrines. The Church is as intent as Secularism on the improvement of this life, as respectful of scientific achievements, as eager for the fulfilment of all duties pertaining to the present life.

SECULAR USE OF CHURCH BUILDING - Edward Fudge Ministries

Secularization is the process of separating religious ideas and institutions from the public sphere. Guinness's Deputy Director speaks of society being "freed" from religious influence. {6} This is how secularists see the separation. Religion is seen as restrictive and oppressive and harmful, and the public square needs to be free of it.

Oftentimes the biblical ethos in regards to the local church model is missed. The following 10 points show the difference between the two models: 1. The corporate model views others of their business ilk as their competition; the church model should be one of identifying ways to network and partner with churches in the community. 2.

secular comes to denote an understanding of the relation of the church to the secular. Modern is equated to secularism, with the syllogistic result that if postmodern follows on modern, post-secular must follow on secular. The question is whether this is a correct assumption which will describe the future relation between the church and the secular.

Make God Central and Unavoidable. "Secular church" services attract people by minimizing God and amplifying social relationships. The article reports: "Members gather on Sundays, sing together, listen to speakers, and converse over coffee and donuts. Meetings are meant to be just like church services—but without God.
