The Cowden Support Program utilizes 14 different Nutramedix products including 6 Microbial Defense herbals (3 pairs of herbals) that are taken rotationally. The first pair (Banderol and Samento) were studied in vitro by Eva Sapi, PhD and her group at the University of New Haven, Connecticut and found to eliminate all forms of Borrelia burgdorferi (spirochetes, round-body forms and biofilm forms).

Nutramedix now offers many additional products, some of which are currently undergoing clinical evaluation for effectiveness in the treatment of Lyme disease. Dr. Lee Cowden considers the use of Samento, Cumanda, Burbur, Quina, and other products to be a fine-tuned antimicrobial approach that addresses fungus and other problems that accompany Lyme disease (L.E.

He then heard of Samento through a doctor who was not familiar with its use, but had seen an article describing its use with Lyme disease. BC read the article cautiously and eventually spoke with the president of the Nutramedix company. BC began an 8 week protocol of Samento. He started with 1 drop of Samento 2 times per day.
